Addison, Texas

Itinerary:

Thursday: 10:00 pm welcome reception at the hotel to meet other students and discuss the event schedule. Munchies and soft drinks provided.

Friday: 9:00 am 3:00 pm You will be teamed with one of the manufacturers at the product show to develop a "new and/or unique" use for one of their products they are displaying. Your presentation may include any media you select, but must be complete by 2:00 pm. Voting by the conference attendees will begin at 2:00 pm and the winners announced at 3:00 pm. Scholarship amounts to be determined, but total amount will be not less than $1,000, split among the top 3. When not viewing exhibits or developing your presentation, students are encouraged to attend interesting technical programs which will be occurring throughout the day.

Saturday AM: Depart hotel for a visit with a local architect and general contractor and tour of a construction site in which they are both participating. Learn how the design and construction process occurs in "the real world".

Saturday Noon: Attend lunch at hotel and hear incoming CSI President Edd Soenke's thoughts on the future of CSI.

Saturday PM: Student oriented workshop "How to Get Noticed When Looking For That First Job"

Saturday Night: Frisco Rough Riders baseball game (optional)

Student members of CSI, this is your opportunity to spend a fun filled weekend in Dallas, hangin' with CSI mentors and other students from around the region, learning about your future in the construction industry, and earning some scholarship cash.

And here's the best part!! - to encourage your attendance, the South Central Region of CSI will pay for the event registration cost, two nights in the conference hotel (not less than double occupancy), and local transportation. That's about a $200 value. But don't wait this offer is only good for the first 26 students who register!

More information is coming as the activities are fully developed. Stay current with event planning by checking the Dallas CSI web site at dallascsi.org.

How do you register? Easy...just send an email to Dallas Chapter Academic Liaison, Doug Hartman, at dhartman@inspeconline.com indicating student name, chapter affiliation, CSI mentor's name, and contact information (address, phone, and email for both student and mentor).

Mark your calendars. See you in Dallas July 27-29!
